The Dream

This story that I'm going to write is true and was told to me by my mum.

We have always lived with my mother's parents and my great-grandparents. My mum loved my great-grandmother because she had taken care of her since she was born.

One day, my mum had a terrible dream. She was driving in a highway on a beautiful morning and there was no traffic. Suddenly, her car made a strong noise and she stopped. As she was pulling over, her mobile rang and someone told her that her grandmother had passed away. She woke up crying as it was very real to her.

One week later, my mum was driving to school in the motorway from Póvoa to St Tirso and her car broke down. When she stopped the car, her mobile was already ringing. It was her uncle telling her that something sad had happened - her grandmother had died.

And my mum always believed in her dreams from that day on.

THE MAN WHO CAN PREDICT THE FUTURE

One night, a young man had a strange dream. In the dream this man was watching the news on TV about a earthquake in China that killed thousands of people.

When he woke up he felt scared, when he was walking in the streets he glanced at some newspapers that talk about an earthquake. He thought it was just a coincidence.

Some weeks later he dreamed about a football game where Portugal won 6-0. He then woke up and turned on his TV. It was talking about an amazing win by Portugal.

The man started becoming suspicious.

A few weeks later he dreamed about the lottery numbers. He woke up, turned the TV on and the numbers were correct.

He started telling everyone about the dreams but nobody believe him.

For the next year he was always having these type of dreams until he realized he had real superpowers and from day on he always believed in his dreams.

A great way to spend your free time

Have you ever thought about how to express yourself when it seems that there are no words to describe how you feel? You know those days when you have nothing to do and a minute feels like an hour? Well, here's my solution for all your problems: painting!

I first got interested in painting when I was 5. I was at nursery school when the teacher asked us to paint what was on our mind at that moment. At first I remember that I didn't understand clearly what she wanted with "what's on our mind". however, after a while, I just let the brush run over the paper and, at the end, the paper that used to be white was filled with the painting of a fantasy castle and a princess next to it. I remember that my drawings and paintings were all about castles and royal people, perhaps because when I was younger, I wanted to be a princess when I grew up.

The years went by and the number of canvases painted increased and with them I learnt how to express my feelings through art.

I'd recommend it as a hobby because for me it is one of the most creative and relaxing free time activities that anyone can do!

There is no doubt that the invention of the internet was a life changing thing worldwide. The internet is very useful but it can be dangerous if the people using it are not careful.

On the one hand the internet is a great way to find information about anything. Since it was invented the internet has helped hundreds of people around the world, whether those people were adults or teenagers. The internet is also a good way of entertaining yourself.

On the other hand, the internet can be dangerous of the people using it do not pay attention to what sites they visit and what information they put in them. If you aren't careful you might get addicted to the internet, for example, a lot of teenagers nowadays are addicted to their mobile phones and the internet because they were born in a modern society.

To conclude, I think that the internet was an extraordinary invention because it is very useful and a great way to entertain yourself and to obtain information but you should be careful because without realizing, you could be putting your life in danger.
